Art Unit: 2635

1. This Office action is in response to the amendment filed November 17, 2003.

Claims 30-54 are pending. Claims 1-29 have been cancelled and claim 50 has been amended as requested.

2. The prior rejections have been withdrawn in favor of the new rejection with more closely matches applicants amendment and remarks. Applicant contends that the prior art fails to teach or make obvious a device with a display that moves coplanar with the keyboard from a first and second position. The claim, however, recites that the direction of movement is "substantially" coplanar and thus, does not require only coplanar movement. To expedite the application, the Examiner now applies art that is restricted to coplanar movement.

Prior rejection maintained

3. Claims 40-41 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 10-11 of U.S. Patent No. 6,483,445. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are anticipated by claims 10-11 in the Patent. Anticipation has been held to epitomize obviousness.

New rejections

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Art Unit: 2635

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claims 30-36, 50 and 54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Castiel.

Regarding claims 30, 34, 35, 36, and 50, Figure 1A teaches the claimed base as item 120 and the display as item 114. Figure 3 shows the display in the covered position. The movement between the first and second position is coplanar.

Regarding claim 31, a mechanical coupling means is inherent because some means must be used to attach the base to the display.

Regarding claims 32-33, see figure 1A.

Regarding claim 54, a means to provide an electric connection between the base and the display is inherent since there must be some means to couple the signal to the display.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 36-39 and 53 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Castiel in view of Kim.

Art Unit: 2635

Regarding claims 36-39 and 53, Castiel does not explicitly teach mechanical guides using a groove. Kim teaches the use of a mechanical guide and grooves to effectuate sliding movement. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use grooves and protrusions as mechanical guides for sliding motion. Such guides limit the motion in the linear coplanar direction.

8. Claims 42-49 and 51-52 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
